ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT BROUGHT TO YOU BY NEW MADINAH TIMES

What a Way to Finish the Year!

Assalamu Alaikum Dear Parents & Carers,

I hope everyone has had a prosperous and blessed fortnight inshaa'Allah. Today we have marked the end of Week 6 which means this is our second last newsletter for the 2018 year subhaanAllah!

Alhamdulillah we have reached the time of year where all class learning is being wrapped up and teachers have begun focussing on in class revision activities in preparation to week 7 and 8 exams. May Allah SWT open and ease the hearts of our children and fill them with imaan (faith) and 'ilm (knowledge), Ameen!

Everyone has been hard at work planning and preparing for the final stretch of the year which will be full of fun and exciting events in shaa Allah. Have a look at the 'Upcoming Events' section of the newsletter and take note of all the events planned for the New Madinah College community.

All in all it has been a wonderful year thus far and we continue to remind each other to remain focused on the most important thing which is gaining closeness and the pleasure of Allah SWT. Miss Nada

Principal's Message

All praises be to Allah SWT and peace be upon his noble messenger Muhammad PBUH.

Assalaamu Alaykum Wa Rahmatullahi Wabarakatuh

Subhan Allah the end of the school year is nearing and exams are now coming up. I encourage students to revise and do some study in preparation for their exams. I ask Allah SWT to give success to all students.

We have introduced a spelling recovery program this term and Maa Shaa Allah, students have responded really well with marks dramatically increasing. The recovery program is working so well that we will be continuing it to the end of the year and in 2019 in shaa Allah. A mathematics recovery program will also be introduced in term 1 2019 in shaa Allah and I look forward to seeing all students achieve their full potential.

Students will be going on an excursion to Wagga Wagga in week 9 in shaa Allah. Please expect notes to go home by the end of next week. There is a lot of preparations happening behind the scenes for the end of the term, I would like to thank the CPC and all involved for their care, hard work and effort. Jazakumallahu Khairan!

K RUBY

Assalamu alaikum and welcome to week 6. Kindergarten have now finished all their maths exams and have moved onto their English exams. This will be our focus for the next 2 weeks; followed shortly by other KLA'S. I am very pleased to say that they have done very well.

The following exams to come in week 7 are writing, grammar and listening. I am not too worried about writing and listening. I will probably be sending home a grammar text example though; as a brief overview just to be safe. Most of the content they already seem to know it is just changing certain words to past tense that tends to confuse them a little bit. We will of course also be practicing in class.

Also, Kindergarten will be having less homework in week 7 in order to give them time to unwind from their exams at the end of the day. You are still free to home read as much as you want but please do not over push them. Lastly, please make sure they eat right and get plenty of the sleep in the next two weeks.

I hope everyone has a wonderful weekend.

Kind regards,

Kindergarten Ruby Ms Nikki

Assalamu Alaikum!

The end of the year is creeping up on us. Over weeks 7 and 8 the students will be busy doing their end of year assessments. I have sent out an assessment timetable on seesaw so parents can see what we will be working on at school. It will be exciting to see how much they improved and changed through-out the year.

There won't be too much homework during those weeks but what I do put in will be helpful practice for their assessments. Your child will come home with their speaking assessment and on the sheet will be their specific date. I encourage you to listen to your child practice at home. They can write out their speech if they wish but it's important to remind them to look at the audience some of the time.

Our class has particularly enjoyed swimming this term and they have grown in confidence while they are in the water which is wonderful to see. Swimming will be finished now but I'm sure the students will look forward to our swimming fun day later in the term!

Asalaamualaikum families,

Alhumdulillah, we've passed the half way point of the term and we are zooming towards assessment time. Students received their exam timetables earlier this week. Please message me if it didn't make home and you would like to see it. Students will do some of their assessments in week 7 and the rest in week 8.

This is the last week of swimming lessons so next week we are back to sport uniform on Tuesdays. Keep your eyes out for more information on the swimming carnival on the 13th of December. The students have been working hard on their end of term play about bullying. I hope you can come to see them perform at the end of year assembly.

Please encourage your child to search around at home for any novels or home readers they have borrowed from the school. These need to be returned by the 17th of December.

May Allah grant your children success in their exams.
Ms Ellen

Assalamu Alaikum parents,

It was great to see that all students submitted their assignments in recent weeks. I appreciate that you have all encouraged your children to hand these in. However, some students handed in their English assignments late, which is a little concerning. Another issue is that there appears to be little to no study for tests.

I have limited homework recently so that assignments and study could be completed, but it appears the latter isn't happening for most students. Concepts that your child may understand in class is sometimes answered wrong in exam situations. In my opinion, this is down to a lack of revision at home. Therefore, I am getting in early to advise you that yearly exams for English, Mathematics, Geography, Science and Physical Development and Health occur in Weeks 7 and 8.

During these weeks, students should be regularly revising. An exam timetable has been sent home with this newsletter.

Yours Sincerely,
Mr. Adrian
